HOW WE DO IT

DISCOVERY

Integrated systems are built to serve the unique requirements of both buildings and their users, so the most important element of any integration project is to sit and discuss all the options available so we can suggest a system for your particular family's needs.

PROPOSAL DEVELOPMENT

Once we understand your lifestyle preferences, our system Designer will tailor make a system proposal for us to present to you to understand how it works and show that it meets all your needs

ENGINEERING

Once the proposal has been approved, Archimedia will start working with our CEDIA Certified Engineers on the design of your custom-made systems and how they integrate into your home and lifestyle, ensuring all elements are laid out in detailed drawings.

HOW WE DO IT

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Archimedia takes a structured approach to managing our projects and our Project Managers diligently work with all stakeholders throughout the life cycle of the project to ensure we deliver something everyone will be proud of.

INSTALLATION & COMMISSIONING

Our installation teams have been trained to implement all our systems using the industry best practices defined by CEDIA, commissioning every project in a way that ensures that systems & components are installed, configured and tested to meet your needs as originally described.

HANDOVER

Throughout the project, you are constantly in touch with our team and once finished our Designer will walk you through the completed system and showcase each of the functionalities that had been scoped out and agreed upon.

GUARDIAN PROGRAM

For added peace of mind, Archimedia provide service contracts to ensure integrated projects are fully maintained to run smoothly.
